

Warranty and Responsibility :

PURFLUX guarantees to the non-business end-user (a buyer from one of the member states of the European Union), for 2 years from the initial date of purchase that the new filters of our brands are free from both physical and manufacturing defect, subject to the end user's compliance with specific recommendations made by PURFLUX and manufacturers of the vehicles on which the filters have been installed, in respect as assembly, maintenance and usage. Business buyers, distributors and dealers benefit from a similar warranty provided in PURFLUX's General Terms of Sale.

PURFLUX's warranty, as above, does not cover:

- Damage caused by non-compliance with recommendations given by PURFLUX and manufacturers recommendations.
- Incorrect use, negligence, incorrect assembly or attempts to open up, repair or modify the filters.
- Damage resulting from the use of filters which does not correspond with the specifications provided by the manufacturers.
- Scratches, grazes and other damage to external parts of the filters, or any other damage which does not prevent the product from functioning effectively.
- General wear and tear or extensive use of the filters, leading to clogging, oxidization, corrosion.
- Damage caused by external factors, all types of incidents and accidents and general damage occurring after the date of the initial purchase.

PURFLUX undertakes, subject to the terms of the above warranty, to replace free of charge, defective filters and/or filters which do not comply with the manufacturer's specifications and to pay for the repair of a vehicle should it break down or suffer damage as a direct result of a defective or non-compliant filter of our brands as recorded by PURFLUX's technical department. Defective parts shall be returned to PURFLUX on request intact and not disassembled. All defective filters which the end-user considers to be covered by the warranty will be the subject of an evaluation by PURFLUX's technical department. The evaluation may conclude after the relevant products have been replaced, that a breakdown or damage is not covered by the warranty. This result in an invoice being sent to the end-user to cover the cost or the replacement products. This warranty does not affect your statutory rights. PURFLUX will accept no liability for indirect loss or damage caused by the end-user as a result of the malfunctioning of a PURFLUX filter.

SAFETY RECOMMANDATIONS

Filters must only be used in accordance with PURFLUX's recommendations and specifications of assembly and utilization, and those of the vehicle manufacturers on which filters have been installed, in particular, in relation to the replacement of filters and oils changes. The filters must be taken apart, exposed to an inflammable risk or the risk of damage of certain filters could result in the emission of toxic and/or oxidizing substances. While the filters are being assembled, it is imperative that the vehicle is stationary and immobilized and that the ignition has been switched off for such time to prevent any risk of burn injuries resulting from the high temperature of the engine. The assembly must be carried out with appropriate tools and without any forcing or bending of the filters or vehicle parts which they have been installed. Replacement of filters shall never be carried out when engine is on. After assembly, it is necessary to check that there are no leaks. The check must be carried out when the engine is running at a normal temperature. If leaks do occur, this can cause the engine to break down and/or a road accident. If you have any doubts or other queries relating to the choice or assembly of a filter, please do not hesitate to contact your distributor.
